After clicking "Save page" multiple times and then navigating to "Saved pages", the output structure does not reflect the addition of any saved pages. The absence of visible saved page details or identifiers suggests that the "Save page" function may not be altering the application state as expected, which is inconsistent with the intended functionality of saving and subsequently viewing saved pages.

Click "menu" button

It means the "Save page" button does not function properly. Bug triggered!
